SORORITIES COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION

Pan Hellenic Delegates Drop Affair of Detained "Rushee"

HEARS TESTIMONY

Decision Reached After Miss Aylesbury Gives her Story.

The Pan Hellenic Council decided yesterday afternoon that the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority broke no Pan Hellenic rules when its members detained Miss Helen Aylesbury for several hours time, which belonged to the Kappa Alpha Thetas and the Pi Beta Phis.

This decision was reached after Miss Aylesbury had testified at a called meeting of the Council.

The Pan Hellenic Council decided that it should be regarded as a triangular sorority affair, and not a matter to be dealt with by the Council. The meeting was called for the special purpose of considering the case.

SO HE SELECTED MISSOURI U.

Graduate Student From Massachusetts Here to Study Journalism.

The standing of the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri in the eastern States among newspaper men and educators is the reason given by Fred D. Griggs, a graduate of Massachusetts Agriculture College, Massachusetts' only state school, for coming to the University of Missouri for graduate work in journalism and economics.

"The University of Missouri was first called to my attention a year ago," Mr. Griggs said this morning, "when I was on the editorial staff of the Springfield Republican. Mr. Samuel Bowles, its editor, told me that he considered the School of Journalism of the University the best school of its kind in America today."

"Later an instructor in the journalistic department of the Massachusetts State Agriculture School, after making a tour of practically every school of journalism in the United States, recommended to me the University of Missouri."

Mr. Griggs while at the Massachusetts Agricultural College was a member of its famous rifle team, which held the intercollegiate championship for three years. He was also an "M" track man and president of the Student Senate. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

TWENTY-FIVE OUT FOR TRACK

Good Material in the Squad, According to the Coaches.

About twenty-five men reported for yesterday's track workout under Guy Kirksey, assistant track coach. A squad of nearly the same size is working on the cross country course, directed by Rex Wickham, captain of last year's cross country team. The military requirement is keeping many men from coming out, according to Mr. Kirksey, and the size of both squads will be almost doubled when the military department excuses a number of track candidates. "The prospects for this year's team are only fair," said Mr. Kirksey this morning. "Of last year's team only three men have come out so far, Thatcher, Hutsell and Terry."

However, the coach was enthusiastic about the freshmen candidates. Of two men in particular much is expected. B. W. Niedorp of St. Joseph is already a star dash man and has made a reputation in high school circles as a performer in the short distance events. Adam Mielcharek of Buffalo, N. Y., is another freshman who promises much. The half mile run is his event.

Two meets which will be held this fall will give the candidates a chance to show the coaches what may be expected of them next spring. In addition to the annual fall interclass meet the coaches are planning a blue ribbon meet. Every man whose performance in his event in this meet is up to a certain standard will win a blue ribbon.

AT C. H. S. 422 STUDENTS

The School Now Has Largest Enrollment in Its History.

The enrollment at the Columbia High School is 422. The largest enrollment before this year was 375.

A course in chorus is given for credit in the high school now for the first time. Kelly Alexander is teaching the course. About fifty students are now taking it. Credit is now allowed for gymnasium work for the first time in the Columbia High School. Both of these courses are open to both boys and girls, and each may be credited for one-half unit toward graduation.

The room you want may be listed among the classified ads today.
